

Wish you were here...

It's 89 in Myrtle Beach and surrounding areas today, and it's not even summer yet! It's also National Armed Forces Day which has been around since 1949, and though we've had a lot of appreciation lately for our men and women in uniform, it is not possible to thank them enough. So all you service, men and women, thank you for all the sacrifices you have made for all of us. On a lighter note, today is also National No Dirty Dishes Day! Well, that's all and good, but if I have to choose between washing dishes and knitting; the dishes will be waiting a while! We also have the Blue Crab Festival going on in Little River which is up near the North Carolina state line. Always a fun festival with lots of food, crafts, and music. Come see us and enjoy our shop and the many activities to be found at the beach! That's right, we have the beach! If none of the other activities interest you or your husband, or your children there is always the beach after you finish visiting with us..

Memorial Day comes the end of the May, another big holiday expressly for those who have made the ultimate sacrifice for our country. Please be safe as you travel to your destination and watch out for those other drivers!

Martina has been busy running around the shop collecting yarn for our sale table and has accrued quite a bit of yarn, and it's all been put in grab bags. These bags range in cost from $15 up. And as the cost has a range so does the quantity of yarn; some of the more expensive bags are enough to make a summer sweater. Come in and see if you find a range that you like! We'd love to see you; the social table is always waiting for more knitters, new and old.
